Private letters from the Grante State represent that much solicitude is felt that the policy commenced by Severnor Geargy will be followed by Governor Walker in the administration of Kansas affairs, and particularly that the Walker policy will be sustained by the President. If it is shown that Kansas has fair play—that the principle of popular sovereignty works well—the democrate of New Hampshire will walk over the course, and elect not only a democratic Governor, but, what is of far greater importance, will elect a democratic Legislature. The Legislature of 1858 will choose a United States Senator in the place of John P. Hale. We have heard selvers gentlemen samed for the Senatorship, among them Hon., John S. Wells, Hon. Harry Hibbard and ex-President Pierce.

The Republicans and Gov. Walker.

When the question of Walker's confirmation as Governor of Manas, course before the Senate, it is probable that the determination of the question may depend upon the republican Senttors. Already speculation is rife as to the cure hand, that they will leave the contending factions of the democracy to fight out the quarrel among themselves; and on the other, that they will throw their votes against Walker. The argument in favor of the latter course is, that it will embarrass the administration and tend to widen the clready serious breach in the "democratic" ranks. That the rejection of Governor Walker would have this effect is certain, but it is equally certain that it must be his rejection by "democratic" and not by republican votes. The republican Senators cannot oppose his confirmation without placing themselves in a factious attitude. An opposition for reasonable cause would be justified by the country, but not an opposition which had no other motive than to harrass the administration. If the artra Scathera faction carry out in Congress their present threats, they will give the administration any desirable quantity of irouble. It is my impression, however, that they will back out, or at any rate when they come to show ther hands find themselves too weak to secure Walker's rejection.

The Kanasa question is regarded as no nearly settled that it will cease to be the leading subject of dispute in Congress. BURNING OF THE GOVERNMENT TRAINS—FROBABLE RETREAT OF THE UNITED STATES TROOPS FROM UTAH.

Leavenworth City, K. T., Nov. 7, 1857.

A courier has just arrived from Fort Laramie, bringing the startling intelligence that three trains of seventy-five wagons, belonging to Major Russell of this city, containing government stores for the army, en route for Salt Lake City, had been captured and burned by five hundred Mormons at Hand's Fork of Green river, on Saturday, October 10. Five wagons, with provisions to reach Fort Laramie, were allowed the drivers and men connected with the train, and ten minutes given them to leave. The Mormons made no attempts to injure any one connected with the train, saying "they did not wish to spill blood unless one of the Saints should be killed, in which event they would demolish the whole United States army." They have taken possession of all the passes in the mountains, burnt all the grass within two hundred miles of Salt Lake City, for the purpose of starving the stock with the government trains.

The grass this season is extraordinarily short, and this move will compel the government forces to return and winter at Fert Laramie. Major Russell's train was sent four weeks in advance of Gov. Gumming and his army, in order to have their cattle recruised upon the arrival of the army at the Passes. They were feeding at the time the Mormons came upon them. Gen. Harney is now at this fort with three thousand men, already in winter quarters, and he says it will take an army of twenty thousand men to conquer the Mormons next spring. Judge Kinney, formerly Chief Justice of Utah, who is well informed in regard to the resources and strength of Brigham Young, says the United States cannot conquer a peace in less than three years. The Mormons during the last three or four years, have been making preparations for a long continued siege with the government, and are in a condition to unstain themselves for several years. This war will be of incalculable benefit to our young and prosperous city. The go

THE KANSAS CONSTITUTION.

[Correspondence of the St. Louis Republican.]

LAWSENCE, K. T., Nov. 9, 1857.

The Lecompton Constitutional Convention closed its is bors on Saturday evening last, Nov. 7, and adjourned six
dic. On Sunday morning the tents of the United State army were struck, and the soldiers were under motion on route for Fort Leavenworth, where they go into winte furnished us the first intimation that the Convention has fourned. I have not seen the constitution, but learn that it is I have not seen the constitution, but learn that it is a pro-slavery constitution throughout; but with an intention make a show of fairness, they have passed a separatclause sanctioning slavery. This section, and this section only, is to be submitted to all persons who are in the Territory at the time the vote is taken upon it, which is said to be on the lat of January, 1858. At the same time State officers are to be elected. A provisional government with Gen. Calhoun, who was President of the Convention as Governor, was formed, to go into operation immediately.

with Gen. Calhoun, who was President of the Convention, as Governor, was formed, to go into operation immediately.

It is evidently the design to get this constitution accepted by Congress prior to the assembling of the Territorial Legislature. In this, however, they will be foiled.

I understand that a committee have aiready waited upon Governor Walker, asking him to convene an extra session of the Legislature to meet the contingency. From the character of the information, I have no doubt but the Governor will grant the request. Indeed, with his past position I cannot see how he can do otherwise.

"I understand that you and all your Cabinet cordially concur in the opinion expressed by me, that the actual bone fide residents of the Territory of Kansas, by a fair and regular vote, unaffected by fraud or violence, must be purmitted, in adopting their State constitution, to decide for themselves what shall be their social instatitions. This is the great fundamental principle of the act of Congress organizing that Terricory, affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States, and is in accordance with the views uniformly expressed by me throughouf my public carser. I contemplate a peaceful sectlement of this question by an appeal to the intelligence and particular of the whole people of Kansas, who should all participate, freely and folity, in this decision, and by a majority of whose vocathe determination must be made, as the only proper and constitutional mode of adjustment."

In his inangural, the Governor took the same broad position that the constitution, not as a part, but as an entirety, must be submitted to a full and fair vote of all the people. In his speech at Topeka on the 6th of June, he reterated the pecition still more strongly, and repeated the same at Big Springs.

The Late Arrest of General Walker at New Orleans.

We learn from the New Orleans papers of the 11th inst. that General Walker was arrested the proceeding night at his lodgings in Custom House street, by a Deputy Marshal, armed with a writ issued by Judge McGaleb. The writ was issued on the affidavit of P. E. Walden, Heary Crane and O. H. Polk, of the New Orleans Custom House, who made oath that they had been informed and believed that Walker bud, within that Judicial district, provided and prepared the means for a military expedition and enterprise, to be carried on from the United States against the territories and dominions of States and people with whom the United States are at peace, to wit—the States and people of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, contrary to the form of the statute of the United States in such case made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the same.

Gen. Walker was arrested at that time in consequence of the existence of a rumor to the effect that he was to depart on his "expedition" at 20 cilcok the next morning, on board the steamer Fashion.

Immediately upon his arrest Walker sent for Mr. Soule, who was soon in attendance, and they at once waited upon Judge NcCaleb, where, on motion of Mr. Soule, and by agreement with Mr. Clack, United States District Attorney, the prisoner was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000, the bond made returnable on the 17th just. But this had scarcely been done when Walker embarked upon his enterprise, with scane 300 followers. His place of abode at New Orleans and the lawless work in which he was engaged were, according to the True Delta, known to "all the world of New Orleans," and for "some weeks past rumor has uncessfulgy suggessed that Gen Walker and his followers were every day on the point of embarking for a second descent upon 10e doomed realing i Nicaragua.

The Workmen in Central Park.

At an early hour yesterday morning crowds of laboring men began to assemble around the Superintendent's office in the Central Park, and soon the yard and passages were blocked up. Captain Montgomery and a strong force of special police were on hand, prepared, in case of any at-tempt at disturbance, to arrest the disorderly.

As soon as the yard was cleared the crowd formed into groups outside the railings, and began discussing their varied prespects and the respective actions of their delegates and the Commissioners. The utmost good humer and disposition everywhere prevailed, and many were the random jokes and remarks which fell from the several groups of taikers. Passing among them we could not recognise in the tone of conversation anything to lead us to judge that these men were on the verge of starvation, as represented by their leaders; on the contrary, it appeared to our reporter there was a healthy brevyancy of feeling which spoke favorably of their present condition. Of course there must be, and no doubt there are, some cases of destRuttion, and these will be provided for on proper application to the Superintendent.

At half-past's 0 cleck the gathering numbered over 3,000, and was gradually being increased by fresh arrivais, so that it became somewhat difficult for carts and carriages to make progress. A rag cart, with its jingling symbols, as it wended its way was received with repeated shouts of merriment. Indge Connolly essayed to encourage the crowd to peace and good humer, and received their plandits, while in another direction a stream began to flow towards a man who was waving his hat to the distance of the unemployed with those in authority; the sem and substance of which was that there was no work to be had for his protegie; that he, Mr. Smith, was offered $1 a day to break stone, which he magnanimously refused, unless all the rest of his companions in misfortune were similarly employed. Mr. KNOIL, a German, then essayed to address the crowd, and had proceeded but for a few moments in broken English when the thread of his discourse was suddenly cut abert by the crowd calling out, "Shut up and go home;" "Oh, there, gas!" "Who eat the oysters?" "Get some branny, "Ac., Ac.

Mr. Shur again came forward, and announced that all the delogates would assemble at 6 o'clock in the evening at the Stephen House, Howery.

Mr. Bowies proceeded to address them at some length, during which he took occasion to berate the Central Park Commissioners and Commen Council in no very gentle terms, and to call on the workingmen to be present at Tompkins square at ten o'clock on this (Thursday) morning, when something would be done of a definite character. He said that a man had told him that they had two hundred and fifty men in the Twentieth ward, all well provided with arms and ready and anxious for a row, and if something was not done for the workingmen at once he would send them his time, not into Wallstreet, but, by God, to where you will get relief, or clse I will make the city come to $300,000 instead of $250,000. (Great applause.) Since he had volunteered in the cause of the workingman he had lest his reputation and his good name among the wealthy, and he was now determined to stand by them if he died by it. He had just as lieve take up the sword now as not. He hoped, therefore, to see the Workingmen in Tempkins square in the merning, and they would thad bira below to send in another memorial to both branches of the Commo Council on Laws McGuras was the next speaker. He said that the committee had resolved to send in another memorial to both branches of the Common Gouncil on Thursday night, asking them, on behalf of many workingment, to at once authorize all public works, such as the grading, paving, &c. of streets to be proceeded with inmediately, without reference to the contesting heads of the Street bepartment. He also said that a gentleman had come to him in the afternoon, who suggested the propriety of the committee taking some measures to relieve the inmediate necessities of the very needy among the workingmen, as the procuring of work was of secondary importance, particularly so when it was known that many of the working people, male and female, were actually suffering for food and fuel. It had also been intimated that there were many in the city who would be glad to give aid to such as they found to be in need, if they only knew where to apply their aid. In view of this he therefore proposed that a resolution be passed by the committee, informing any who felt disposed to aid to come to the committee rooms, and procure the list of houses of the workingmen, and go and investigate their necessities for themselves; and if they should think them deserving, to give them such relief as they deemed necessary or felt disposed to. After some considerable discussion the resolution was adopted unanimously.

Some time was subsequently spent in discussing the propriety of the workingmen taking any part in the demonstration at Tompkins square on Thursday (this) morning.

Mr. George H. Andrews, of the committee appointed at the meeting on Monday evening, gave the outlines of the pian of organization as follows:—

An Executive Committee of seven gentlemen shall be designated, to whom shall be entrusted the supervision and control of the system of dispensing relief. This committee shall meet weekly, or oftener if necessary, and make monthly reports through the daily press. They shall divide each ward into districts, and assign each district to visiters, who shall personally investigate every case of want that may be reported. They shall have power to fill vacancies, and to appoint a secretary, and four shall constitute a quorum.

A treasurer shall be appointed by this meeting, with whom shall be deposited all sums of money which may be contributed towards the ebject for which this meeting is held; he shall pay no money for any purpose except upon a draft signed by a majority of the executive committee, he shall also make a monthly report, to be published simultaneously with that of the executive committee, and his accounts and vouchers shall be subject to the inspection of that committee.

The committee also recommended the following named gentlemen for the executive committee:—Thirteenth ward, John Broach; Fourteenth ward, Grahmus Polley; Fifteenth ward, Daniel Manger; Sixteenth ward, Henry Oliman; Soventeenth ward, Benjamin R. The Accident to the Steamship Pulladelphia.

(From the Charleston Mercury, Nov. 16.)

The steamship Pulladelphia, Capt S. C. Boggs, United States navy, plying between New Orleans, Havana and New York, came into this port on Saturday, in a disabled candition. She left Havana for New York on the whi inst. On the 13th, she broke her main shaft and the cross head of her port engine, and being in the vicinity of Charleston, ran in to avoid being caught in a gale in such condition. She lies in Cooper river, nearly opposite the new Coston House. Capt. Boggs has telegraphied to New York for a new shaft. Her passengers were, in part, transferred to the Nashville, which left here on Saturday afternoon.

Since the above was penned we learn that Capt. Boggs has received a felegraphic despatch directing him to proceed at once to New York, in accordance with which the Philadelphia left hast evening, but anchored in the Roads, the wind blowing rather too fresh from the northeast for her to go o cam her disabled condition.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

First Aldermanic District Convention.—The members of this Convention met last evening, at the Clermont House, corner of College place and Murray street, for the purpose of choosing a candidate. The greater part of the evening was consumed in deciding the merits of two sets of delegates from the Second ward. There was considerable fighting going on among the friends of Billy Wilson and those of Mike Murray. The former broke into the Convention, and, with knives and pistols, made a fleree demonstration. A regular old fashioned fight then ensued, in which any quantity of countenances were more or less damaged. The police were finally called upon to quell the row.

The Second District Convention met at Rice's, corner of Madison and Catherine streets, and, after organizing, adjourned until Friday evening without making any nomination.

The Fourth District Convention met at 173 Madison street, and, after organizing, adjourned until Monday evening next without reconciler to any formal ballet.

The Fourth District Concention met at 173 Madison street, and, after organizing, adjourned until Monday evening next without proceeding to any formal ballot. Ninth District.—The Democratic Convention for the nomination of Alderman for the Ninth District (Sixteenth ward) met last night at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Ninth avenue, but no nomination was made. Five ballots were taken, the last of which stood as follows:—Osgood 4, Gregory 4, Libby 1. Five votes being necessary to secure a nomination, and there being no likelihood of obtaining that number, as the Convention was constituted, the proceedings were adjourned to Monday evening next.

The Camden and Amboy Affair.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. NEW YORK, Nov. 17, 1857. I was present at the meeting of the directors of the Delaware and Raritan Canal and Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation Companies at Princeton, on the read and Transportation Companies at Princeton, on the 15th October last, referred to in the statement of W. W. Dechert, published in your paper on the 13th inst., and desire to add to the "Statement of the Witnesses." published in one of the city papers of this date, my contradiction of Mr. Dechert's card.

There are several inaccuracies in his statement which it is not necessary now to correct.

Mr. Dechert did not, as he asserts, decline to detail any of his suspicions or his proofs to sustain them, because he had not had sufficient time for preparation or for any other reason.

of his suspicions or his proofs to sustain them, because he had not had sufficient time for preparation or for any other reason.

He did detail some suspicions, and when asked if he could state a single fact to sustain or justify his suspicions, replied that he could not and only had suspicions. No intimation was given that he had other suspicions than those mentioned by him.

Commodore Stockton did not, as Mr. D. asserts, approach Mr. Dechert with anary gesticulations and violent language at any time; nor did Mr. Richard Stockton seize a bundle of papers from under Mr. D.'s arm; nor was the latter knocked down and beaten by the united efforts of the Commodore and his sons. After Mr. D. had said, as he stated at the time, all he wished to say, he was requested to leave the room, and did leave it.

Subsequently, while we were at dinner, he twice requested another interview, which was accorded to him. At this second interview he made no attempt to add anything to his previous statements relevant to the matter before the Board, but attempted to detail some standerous gossip about Commodore Stockton and the government short 2: "Traceton, of more than ten years standing, and although called to order one or more times, and repeatedly requested and at length peremptorily ordered to leave the room, he persisted in making offensive remarks having no pertinency to the affairs of the Board.

At this time I saw Mr. John P. Stockton approach him quietly, and I heard him (stockton) in a gentle manner request Fechert to go out.

At this time I saw Mr. John P. Stockton approach him quietly, and I heard him (Stockton) in a gentle manner request Dechert to go out.

What immediately occurred between these two I could not see; but I know that Commodore Stockton (and I think Richard Stockton) was not near enough to touch

I have no doubt that Mr. Dechert struck Mr. John P. Stockton first; and I think that the latter exhibited more lentencyjand forbearance at Mr. Dechert's supplications than many men would under like provocation, were they peaserseed of Mr. Stockton's power of self defence. Mr. D. most unnecessarily provoked and (as I believe) commenced the affray. CAMBRIDGE LIVINGSTON.

ARREST OF A PROFESSIONAL BURGLAR.

Vesterday morning, as officer King, of the Deputy Superintendent's office, was walking down Broadway, near Leonard street, he espied two professional burglars a short distance ahead of him. Suspecting that they might be wanted at headquarters, the officer pushed forward to arrest them, when one of them, named Miller, dedged down Leonard street, and was out of sight in an instant. The other one, thomas McCoy, was captured; and on being taken to the Deputy's office, in Broome street, a carpet hag, found in his possession, was discovered to contain a complete set of burglar's tools, comprising a couple of jimmies, a bunch of skeleton keys, a dark lantern, and various other articles necessary to the correct performance of the art of housebreaking. While being searched the prisoner darted out of the hands of the officers, and ran out into Grand street; but he was recaptured before he could get to Broadway, and brought back to the lock up.

RECOVERY OF A BARGE AMOUNT OF STOLKN PROPERTY. For some time past Messes. Lathrop & Luddington, dry goods merchants, doing business at Nos. 23 and 25 Park place, have lost a great deal of valuable property by the dishonesty of some one in their employ—they do not know who. Yesterday one of the firm discovered a portion of the stolen property in the auction store of Messes. Topping & Co., in Broadway, near Pine street. Upon inquiry they learned that a man named Meyers Stern had brought the property there to be sold, and that he was expected there in the course of the day to receive the proceeds of the saile. Information was conveyed to officers King and Melongal, when the policemen repaired to the spot and watched for the arrival of Stern. They were not kept in suspense very long, for before 3 e-wock the gentleman they were in search of arrived. Stern was at once taken into custody and conveyed to the Deputy's office in Broome street. Upon searching his residence, No. 4 Allen street, a large quantity of siks and satine, valued at $600, was discovered and siezed by the police. Messe

SHIF FLYING FISH, Bates, which arr at this port 16th inst, from Callao, on Sept 3d, in lat 48, had a vesy beavy gale from NW, accompanied by tremendous seas, which continually broke over the ship. Sept 4, gale increasing, at 4 PM, whilst soudding, an immense sea broke on board fore and aft, staving main batch and breaking boats adaift. Considering it dangerous to send any longer, the ship was brought to the wind in which act lost sails: immediately after which the chief officer was sent below to examine the state of the ship, as she appeared to move very heavily, and it was ascertained that there were three feet of water between decks, and stores all adriff, washing about the decks. The crew were employed all night in pugping and throwing guano overboard. Sept 7, she entered the Straits of Lemaire, and Capt B attempted to obtain shelter of Terra del Fuezo, but was forced off by very heavy gales. Sept 9, she made Faikland Islands, and the weather improving, Capt B goneluded to continue on his voxage. Oct 1, came to under Fernando de Noronha to partially repaid damages.

BANK RODKOND, of and from Boston for Buenos Ayres, reimproving, Capt B goneluded to continue on his voyage. Oct. L. came to under Fernando de Noronha to partially repair damages.

Bark Rodnon, of and from Boston for Buenos Ayres, reported wrecked on the English Bank, was a good vessel 451 tons, built at Alma, near Wiscasset, Me, about five years eince, and valued at about 20,000, for which sum she is insured in Boston. She had a cargo of Bour, lumber &c, which is insured upwards $6,000 of it in this city. The R grounded on the English Bank, eve Sept 27. After cutting away the master capt tayle and crew left her, and arrived at Montevideo 28th. Mr Hamilton, U S Consul, engaged small vessels and a French, Government steamer to go down to wreck and save property. The weather being mild, great hopes were entertained of success. Capt Brown, of the Maria, arrived here, saw several small vessels going into Montevideo night of 29th, apparently loaded, and going up from the wreck.

A Buenos Ayres date of Sept 23, states that the weather had been very bad, and that several vessels in the outer roads had suffered from collision: no names given.

Bus Heuson (of Seaville), Griffin, from Banger for Weymouth, but into Portland leth inst, in distress, having been on fire. She reports that on the morning of the 15th, off Boot in the Boot were bad, and the several vessels in the outer roads had suffered from collision: no names given.

Bus Heuson (of Seaville), Griffin, from Banger for Weymouth, but into Portland leth inst, in distress, having been on fire. She reports that on the morning of the 15th, off Boot files and laths, caught fire from sparks from the galley, which burst of the main standing regising on the starboard side, all the running rigging, pumps, habidos, mishmass nearly off, and bady damaged the hull. The deck load was about ruined, 25,00 feet of lumber having been thrown overboard before the fire was extinguished, and it was shought that the cargo in the hold was also damagid.
